The election is over. Now for something else.

Just think of a majority of 25,000 in Kansas.

California gives McKinley 40,000 majority and all seven of the Congressmen are Republicans.

Maine showed up with a Democratic gain of 21 per cent, but the gain cut but little ice.

Any how it is pleasant to read that McMillin was re-elected Governor of Tennessee by 35,000 majority.

A Minnesota Republican while stamping his ballot dropped dead in the booth, but there were plenty others who survived the shock.

Ellis M. Headley was held over at Paducah on the charge of bribing an election inspector in the interest of McKinley and Yerkes.

Republicans who think they own the earth may as well note in passing that the judicial district is still Democratic by something like 1500 majority.

Joe S. Stirman, Democrat, was elected city judge of Owensboro by 55 majority over Lee, Republican. A small margin, but it will do in a pinch.

Out of the general crash and cyclonic wreck comes Kentucky, thank God, redeemed and restored to Democratic rule. The majority for Beckham is safely above 4,000 and Bryan's majority is nearly twice as much.

Landslide or no landslide, Christian county added 120 Democratic votes to the high water mark of 1896, while the Republicans, after being reinforced by such votes as they were able to control, were unable to hold their own for the same year.

Lantrip's precinct is happy at last. In 1895 there were just 44 Democratic votes in the precinct and every election since has shown an increase. This time the Democrats set out to secure 100 votes and they reached that figure, doubling their vote in five years and reducing the Republican majority to less than 100 for the first time on record.

So far as we have learned there has been no complaint of the operation of the Goebel election law in this county this year and the law leaves the statute books with a record of fairness we trust the future law may equal. There was an exact division of officers in every precinct, each party being given an equal number of sheriffs and clerks. The only confusion caused anywhere was from the officiousness of Republican politicians who assumed to instruct the Democratic sheriffs that they were merely doorkeepers with no official duties to perform under section 1,484 of the statutes. Most of them, however, were men who could not be misled by Republicans. We have heard of no Republican sheriffs who were given similar "instructions."

There is nothing in the Republican claim that Yerkes has been elected. The figures are not reliable and in many cases are falsified. For instance the Republican majority is put at 1,382 in this county, when the complete figures give 1,198. The Post, with its usual mendacity, asserts that there are 400 legal ballots uncounted in "Christian and Warren counties," when there is absolutely no grounds for such a charge in this county. If there were any irregularities of any kind they have not been reported.

One of the gratifying developments of the election was the disappearance of the "McKinley Democrat." Those of them who were really Democrats returned to their party, while the others lined up with Rastus and will no longer sail under false colors. And let it be noted that there are to-day more true Democrats in Christian county than ever before, comprising nearly three-fourths of the white voters of the county.

The election of Ed C. O'Rear, a Republican, to succeed Judge Jas. H. Hazelrigg, in the Seventh Appellate district, is one of the most unfortunate outcomes of the election, since it changes the political complexion of the highest court in the State after January 18. The elevation of a mountaineer to the appellate bench is expected to have an important bearing on the cases of the assassins of Gov. Goebel.

A negro Democrat was shot by a Republican on account of his politics a few days ago and now comes the news that another negro Democrat of Lexington, a school teacher named G. P. Russell, had his house burned by an incendiary while he was away from home Wednesday.

Cards to Gov. Beckham's wedding are out. Miss Jean Fuqua, of Owensboro, will become mistress of the executive mansion after Nov. 21.

Delaware appears to be Republican by 4 to 6 votes in the Legislature, which will elect two Senators.

Durbin is elected Governor of Indiana and Taylor will not have to move.

The next thing in order now is a frost to ripen the persimmons.

Neither can you cure nervous diseases by using drugs or compounds that only stimulate or deaden the nerves.

The delicate nervous system must be fed and sustained by pure, rich blood, and the one medicine to purify and vitalize the blood is Hood's Sarsaparilla. That is the prime object for which it is made and it has won success unequalled in the history of medicine. You should know by actual experience what it will do for you.

The quartet were convicted at the last February term of stealing tobacco from several South Christian farmers living near Longview and Casky and each was sentenced to the penitentiary for three years. A new trial was refused and an appeal was taken. The decision of the lower court was affirmed and defendants will have to serve out their sentences.
